London Hilton on Park Lane

The Davis Langdon Banking Tax and Finance team has won a place on the shortlist for the best tax team in a boutique firm category in this year's LexisNexis Taxation Awards.

This is a notable achievement with the judges citing that 'an incredibly high standard of entrants' had given them a tough job in determining the shortlist. A winner will be announced during a gala dinner at the London Hilton on 21st May 2009.

'The Taxation Awards' - in association with LexisNexis - honour organisations and individuals who have made an outstanding contribution in the field of taxation, whether in practice or in commerce. These awards, now in their 9th year, are viewed as the 'gold standard' by which the skills of a tax team or individual are recognised by their peers. They also play an important role in highlighting achievements to current and potential clients.
